19TH CENTURY BIEDERMEIER CHEST OF DRAWERS IN STRIKING TIGER MAPLE VENEER

$8,995

An elegant 19th century Biedermeier chest of drawers, showcasing the refined lines and understated sophistication characteristic of the period. This piece is clad in richly figured tiger maple veneer, its dramatic grain patterns lending warmth, depth, and visual intrigue to the restrained silhouette. The chest features four drawers—three full-width and one slightly smaller top drawer—each fitted with shield-shaped escutcheons, and is flanked by slender columnar supports capped with carved and ebonized Corinthian-style capitals.

The gently bowed drawer fronts and subtly overhanging top soften the geometry of the form, while the high, block feet give the chest a sturdy presence. The warm honey-gold tones of the tiger maple are brought to life by a lustrous finish, enhancing the chatoyant quality of the wood. Measuring 39.5" wide × 19.5" deep × 37" high, this Biedermeier chest offers both ample storage and timeless decorative appeal, making it a versatile addition to both traditional and modern interiors. A fine example of early 19th century craftsmanship, it balances functionality with graceful design.
