425 Peachtree Hills NE, No. 18 | Atlanta, GA 30305 | 404.351.9433 | info@englishaccentantiques.com

19TH CENTURY ENGLISH OAK JOINT STOOL WITH TURNED LEGS

$3,750

An English oak joint stool dating to the 19th century, crafted in the traditional style of earlier 17th-century examples. This solid and well-proportioned piece features a rectangular top with softened edges, resting above a molded apron. Each corner is supported by boldly turned baluster legs with vertical gadrooning, ring turnings, and a sense of architectural solidity. The legs are joined by box stretchers at the base, which provide both structural integrity and a balanced silhouette. The dark oak has developed a deep, rich patina over time, with visible grain and surface wear that contribute to its authentic antique character.

This type of joint stool was a staple in English domestic interiors, used for seating, side tables, or even as small work surfaces. Today, it retains its versatility and can be placed at the end of a bed, alongside a chair, or as an accent in an entryway or living room. The scale and restrained ornamentation make it a timeless and adaptable piece for both traditional and transitional spaces.

Height: 20.5 in (52.07 cm)

Width: 24 in (60.96 cm)

Depth: 12 in (30.48 cm)

Seat Height: 20.5 in (52.07 cm)

SKU: A 6208