19TH CENTURY ENGLISH VICTORIAN OAK UPHOLSTERED FOOTSTOOL ON CASTERS

$2,200

A charming 19th-century English oak footstool with an unusually decorative shaped frame and compact square proportions. The stool is generously upholstered in a neutral textured fabric, creating a comfortable surface while allowing the architectural character of the oak base to remain the focal point.

The shaped apron is particularly appealing, with a series of stepped geometric profiles surrounding a central arched opening. A continuous line of aged brass nailheads follows the contours of the frame, emphasizing its unusual silhouette and adding a warm metallic accent against the mellow oak. Small original-style casters allow the stool to be moved easily around a room.

Low and generously cushioned, this antique English stool is particularly well suited for use as a footstool in front of a favorite armchair or beside a fireplace. Its compact scale also makes it useful as a small occasional seat when needed. The combination of warm oak, neutral upholstery and sculptural lines gives the piece enough character to work comfortably in both traditional and more relaxed contemporary interiors.
