19TH CENTURY ITALIAN WALNUT DEMI-LUNE TABLE WITH SATINWOOD INLAY AND REAR DRAWER

$8,995

An elegant Italian walnut demi-lune table from the 19th century, supported on three tapered and fluted legs that emphasize its neoclassical character. The half-moon top is veneered in walnut with a radiating design, framed by a satinwood banded inlay that highlights the clean curve of the form and adds a note of contrast.

The apron is further detailed with satinwood inlay, giving depth and refinement to the restrained silhouette. At the back, a discreet drawer is cleverly integrated, offering practical storage while maintaining the harmony of the design.

This table reflects the understated elegance of Italian craftsmanship in the 19th century, combining warm walnut grain with the lighter satinwood accents to create balance and sophistication. Functional and decorative, it serves beautifully as a console in an entryway, a side table in a salon, or an accent beneath a mirror, where its radiating top and subtle inlay can be appreciated.
