18 TH C ENGLISH OIL ON CANVAS HORSE AND JOCKEY PAINTING

$9,985

A 19th century English oil on canvas horse and jockey painting in carved gilt wood frame. This 19 th c.English oil on canvas is a 19 th c copy of an 18 th c engraving of Grey Momus by Herring SR, it beautifully depicts a horse and jockey in a serene yet dynamic profile. The gray horse, depicted with elongated and elegant lines, turns its head slightly towards the viewer, inviting us into the moment. In contrast, the jockey remains focused ahead, oblivious to our presence, adding a sense of dedication and concentration to the composition. The background features a slightly ominous sky, enhancing the drama and tension of the moment captured. The soft, pastel colors create a gentle and calming effect, balancing the intensity of the scene. The horse stands gracefully on short green grass, further adding to the painting's serene quality. The painting is framed in an exquisite carved giltwood frame, adorned with delicate waterleaf motifs. The golden tones of the frame beautifully complement the pastel hues of the painting, enhancing its overall elegance and sophistication. Ideal for adding a touch of historical charm and artistic sophistication to any room, this 19 th-century English oil on canvas painting can be a stunning focal point in a living room, study, or gallery wall. Its timeless beauty and refined craftsmanship ensure it will be a cherished addition to any art collection. With its harmonious blend of dynamic composition and soft coloration, this horse and jockey painting offers both aesthetic pleasure and a glimpse into the past. The detailed rendering and elegant framing make it a perfect piece to enhance any sophisticated interior, providing a touch of historical elegance and artistic excellence.
