ENGLISH 19TH CENTURY OAK BENCH WITH CARVED BACK, DOWNSWEPT ARMS AND CUSHION

$7,500

An English bleached oak bench from the 19th century with carved wooden back, downswept arms, cabriole legs and custom cushion. This exquisite English bleached oak bench from the 19th century features a beautifully carved wooden back, composed of four elegant panels that showcase careful detailing and artistic flair. The carvings add depth and character to the piece, highlighting the natural beauty of the bleached oak. The bench is designed with downswept arms that provide both comfort and a graceful silhouette, enhancing its inviting presence. The custom cushion, tailored to fit the seat perfectly, adds a layer of comfort while complementing the bench's rustic charm. The cushion's neutral fabric contrasts beautifully with the bleached oak, creating a harmonious and visually appealing ensemble. The bench is supported by cabriole legs, which are elegantly curved and end in classic pad feet. These elements not only ensure stability but also add a touch of sophistication and historical charm. The pad feet provide a sturdy foundation while maintaining the overall elegance of the design. Ideal for a variety of settings, this bench can be placed in an entryway, living room, or bedroom, where it will serve as both a functional seating option and a stunning decorative accent. Its versatile design ensures it will complement both traditional and contemporary interiors, adding a touch of historical sophistication to any space.
