ENGLISH JACOBEAN REVIVAL BARLEY TWIST UPHOLSTERED STOOL WITH STRETCHER BASE

$3,995

A well-proportioned English footstool raised on finely turned barley twist legs, joined by a continuous barley twist stretcher forming a distinctive square base. The dark-stained wood frame offers a rich contrast to the newly upholstered seat, which has been finished in a neutral woven textile with subtle tufting.

The craftsmanship of the base reflects the enduring influence of Jacobean revival design, with the spiral-turned elements adding both structure and visual movement. The stretcher not only reinforces the frame but gives the piece a grounded, architectural presence, making it feel more substantial than its compact scale suggests.

The newly upholstered cushion provides a clean, tailored look, allowing the stool to integrate easily into both traditional and more contemporary interiors. It works equally well as a footrest, a low occasional seat, or placed beneath a console or in front of a chair.
