ENGLISH VINTAGE ZEBRA HIDE UPHOLSTERED FOOTSTOOL

$3,995

A striking English vintage footstool featuring a zebra hide upholstered seat raised on a dark stained wooden frame. The bold natural pattern of the hide creates an immediate visual impact, while the carved and turned base lends the piece a traditional character that balances the more exotic upholstery.

The rectangular seat showcases the distinctive markings of the zebra hide, including the dramatic stripe pattern and tail detail retained along the center. Beneath, the stool is supported by a well-crafted wooden base with turned stretchers, spindle galleries, and tapered legs, providing both stability and decorative interest.

Compact in scale, this piece works beautifully as a footstool, low bench, fireside accent, dressing room accessory, or decorative element in a library, study, or English Country House interior. The combination of traditional English craftsmanship and natural hide creates a distinctive accent that complements both classic and eclectic settings.
