FRENCH 1900S LOUIS-PHILIPPE INSPIRED MIRROR WITH TORTOISE STYLE PAINTED FRAME

$1,400

A small French Louis-Philippe style wooden mirror from the early 20th century, with tortoise style painted frame, brown and black accents. Elevate your interior with this exquisite small French Louis-Philippe style wooden mirror from the early 20th century. Crafted in France during the Turn of the Century, this mirror embodies the timeless elegance of the Louis-Philippe era with its clean lines, rounded corners in the upper section, and captivating tortoise-style painted frame adorned with striking brown and black accents.

The back of the mirror is made of two planks, ensuring stability and durability. It comes wired, ready to be effortlessly hung on any wall, allowing you to instantly enhance your space with its refined beauty. The clear mirror plate reflects light and creates a sense of openness, while the tortoise-style painted frame adds a touch of sophistication and visual interest to any room. Capturing the essence of the early 20th century, this French Louis-Philippe style mirror circa 1900 is a testament to timeless design. Its versatile size and elegant aesthetic make it a perfect addition to various settings, whether it's displayed above a demilune table, a commode, or as an accent piece on any wall.
