$5,995

A French Art Deco period wrought iron eight-light chandelier from circa 1920 with large scrolling motifs. This exquisite French Art Deco period chandelier, dating back to circa 1920, showcases the opulence and dynamic design of its era. Crafted from wrought iron, the chandelier features eight lights arranged on flower-shaped cups, which lend a delicate aesthetic juxtaposed with the bold, large scrolling motifs that define the frame. These scrolls are finely detailed with reeded accents, enhancing the textural depth and visual interest of the piece. Professionally rewired for use in the USA, this chandelier is not only a functional lighting fixture but also a piece of historical art that adds elegance and a timeless grace to any room. It's particularly suited for spaces that feature Art Deco decor or for those looking to add a dramatic statement piece that commands attention. The dark tones of the wrought iron coupled with the light from the candle sleeves make it an ideal centerpiece for a dining room, entryway, or a high-ceilinged living room. With its robust design and luxurious appearance, this chandelier also fits well in commercial settings, such as boutique hotels or corporate buildings, where its grandeur can be fully appreciated by a wider audience.
