FRENCH DIRECTOIRE STYLE 19TH CENTURY WALNUT COMMODE WITH GREY MARBLE TOP

$10,800

A French Directoire style walnut commode from the 19th century, with three drawers, grey marble top, brass accents and fluted posts. Created in France during the 19th century, this walnut commode showcases the stylistic characteristics of the Directoire period. The commode features a rectangular variegated grey marble top with protruding rounded corners in the front, sitting above an elegant façade. Three drawers are each accented with a brass frame and are fitted with linear hardware. Their dovetail construction reveals the piece's good age. The side posts are fluted along the two lower drawers. The sides are made of recessed panels divided into two sections and the back is, of course, simply planked and distressed. The ensemble is raised on four cylindrical tapering legs mounted on petite brass feet. With its Classical lines and walnut patina, this French Directoire style commode from the 19th century will bring an undeniable touch of elegance to any home, placed in a bedroom or living room.
