FRENCH LOUIS-PHILIPPE GILDED MIRROR WITH BEADED TRIM, CIRCA 1900

$4,500

This French Louis-Philippe mirror, dating to circa 1900, is distinguished by its classic silhouette and gilded surface. The rectangular frame features gently curved top corners and a refined simplicity that defines the Louis-Philippe period. The frame is accented in a warm, matte gold tone with natural wear, tonal variation, and surface texture that lend the piece character and authenticity without compromising its elegance.

A subtle beaded inner molding adds a touch of ornamentation, providing visual contrast while keeping with the style's minimalist ethos. The mirror plate is set cleanly within the frame, showing expected signs of age including some speckling and patination that enhance the overall aesthetic. Modest in size, this mirror is ideal for placement above a console, mantel, or commode, or as a decorative accent in a bedroom, entryway, or powder room.

Its timeless form and gilding make it versatile in both traditional and contemporary interiors, offering a quietly luxurious historical touch.
