FRENCH NEOCLASSICAL 19TH CENTURY CARVED GILTWOOD FOOTSTOOL WITH LINEN UPHOLSTERY

$1,975

A French Neoclassical carved giltwood footstool from the 19th century with custom linen upholstery. This exquisite 19th-century French giltwood footstool is a testament to timeless craftsmanship and refined elegance. Its octagonal frame is adorned with a striking carved apron featuring a unique linear guilloche frieze, showcasing a sophisticated interpretation of classical motifs. The rich gilding has acquired a soft patina over the years, enhancing the stool's character and charm. Recently reupholstered in custom linen fabric, the cushion offers a modern touch while retaining the piece's historical integrity. The fluted, tapered legs are delicately proportioned, further emphasizing the elegance of this small yet impactful piece. A label affixed to the underside hints at its distinguished provenance, adding a layer of intrigue for collectors or enthusiasts of fine antiques. While its origins remain understated, the stool’s quality and design speak volumes of its heritage. Perfect as a decorative accent, this footstool can be used to elevate a corner of a living room, bedroom, or library. It serves beautifully as a functional piece next to an armchair or as an ornamental addition to a vignette. Its compact size makes it versatile for layering in with larger furniture, while the golden tones and intricate carvings bring warmth and depth to any space. Whether used for its intended purpose or admired as a work of art, this French giltwood footstool is sure to add a touch of sophistication and historical charm to your home.
