FRENCH NEOCLASSICAL STYLE 1920S PAINTED STOOL WITH CARVED APRON AND FLUTED LEGS

$1,500

A French Neoclassical style painted stool from circa 1920 with circular upholstered seat, guilloche carved apron and fluted legs. This French 1920s stool, with its circular upholstered seat, guilloche carved apron, and fluted legs, beautifully encapsulates the grace and refined aesthetics of the Neoclassical period. The stool features a circular seat, upholstered for comfort, creating an inviting and elegant spot for seating. The guilloche carved apron below the seat is a testament to skilled craftsmanship, showcasing intricate patterns that evoke classical artistry. The fluted legs, a hallmark of Neoclassical design, add a sense of architectural elegance and stability to the stool. Carved rosettes on the knees of the legs provide a decorative flourish, enhancing the stool's overall visual appeal. The painted finish exhibits a nicely weathered appearance, adding a layer of history and character. This distressed look not only contributes to the stool's charm but also highlights the textural details of the carving. In a modern home, this French Neoclassical stool serves as a versatile and stylish piece. It can be used in a living room as an additional seating option, in a bedroom as a vanity stool, or in a foyer as a decorative accent. The stool's elegant design and weathered finish make it a perfect match for various interior styles, adding a touch of early 20th-century French sophistication and the beauty of Neoclassical design to your space. Whether used for practical seating or as an artistic element, this stool brings a piece of French history and artisanal beauty into your home.
