FRENCH TURN OF THE CENTURY 1900S NARROW GILTWOOD SPLIT MIRROR WITH MOLDED FRAME

$2,400

A French Turn of the Century tall and narrow giltwood mirror from circa 1900 with split glass panels and carved frame. Step into the opulent world of early 20th-century French design with this exquisite Turn of the Century tall and narrow giltwood mirror, circa 1900. This mirror, with its elegant rais-de-cœur carved frame, giltwood finish, and split glass panels, is a testament to the refined aesthetics of the era. The mirror's glass is thoughtfully split into two sections, with the smaller one at the top, creating a captivating visual effect that draws the eye upward, enhancing the mirror's tall and narrow silhouette. The full-length design of the mirror makes it not only a stunning decorative piece but also a functional item, perfect for a last-minute outfit check or to add depth to a space. The giltwood frame, with its rich, golden tones and discreet carving, encases the mirror, adding a touch of opulence and sophistication. This mirror serves as a statement piece in any home, ideal for gracing an entryway, adding elegance to a living room, or serving as a focal point in a bedroom or dressing area. Its timeless design and luxurious finish make it a versatile addition to both traditional and contemporary interiors, adding a touch of French Turn of the Century elegance and the allure of timeless craftsmanship to your space.
