GERMAN BIEDERMEIER FLAME BIRCH THREE-DRAWER CHEST, 19TH CENTURY

$7,995

A handsome 19th-century Biedermeier chest with three drawers, a warm golden figured birch front, and contrasting ebonized trim along the top, base, and key escutcheons. The clean architectural form is typical of German Biedermeier furniture, with its emphasis on strong proportions, useful storage, and decorative impact through wood grain rather than heavy carving.

The drawer fronts show lively figuring with a honeyed tone, giving the piece a refined but still approachable character. The black trim frames the chest beautifully and adds graphic contrast, making it easy to place in both traditional and more eclectic interiors. Its compact scale would work well as a bedroom chest, entry piece, living room storage cabinet, or even as a distinctive bedside chest in a larger room.

The back and drawer interiors show age-appropriate construction and wear consistent with a 19th-century piece. Elegant, practical, and visually strong without feeling overly formal.
