GILTWOOD FEATHERED ROUND MIRROR WITH RADIATING FRAME, FRENCH, 1920S

$3,995

French giltwood craftsmanship meets sculptural flair in this striking round mirror dating to the 1920s. The radial frame is carved in a feathered motif reminiscent of sunrays or stylized palm fronds, rendered in deep relief and highlighted with warm gold leaf. The form evokes classic French sunburst mirrors, yet the feather-like repetition introduces a sense of movement and volume unique to this design. The gold finish has mellowed with age, showing tonal variation and subtle patina that brings depth and visual texture to the surface.

This mirror offers both decorative richness and versatility. Its round silhouette and organic flourishes soften architectural spaces, while the bold carving and gilded surface make it an ideal focal point above a console, fireplace, or in a dramatic entryway. It's equally suited to traditional interiors or layered eclectic schemes, where it can add a sculptural counterpoint to modern lines or maximalist textures. The piece hangs flat and stable thanks to its sturdy wood backing and integrated hook.
