MID-CENTURY AMERICAN BRUTALIST SCULPTURAL WOOD MIRROR

$2,850

A striking American Brutalist wall mirror dating to the mid-20th century, distinguished by its richly textured frame handcrafted from layers of reclaimed wood. Narrow wooden slats of varying lengths are carefully stacked to create a sculptural composition with remarkable depth, transforming ordinary reclaimed material into a bold architectural statement. The natural variations in color, grain, weathering, and texture celebrate the inherent beauty of the wood while giving the mirror a strong organic presence.

The frame's dynamic construction creates constantly shifting shadows and visual interest, making the piece as much wall sculpture as functional mirror. Its warm palette of honey, oak, and deep brown tones allows it to complement a wide range of interiors, from rustic and organic spaces to industrial lofts and contemporary homes. The substantial profile and handcrafted quality exemplify the expressive design language associated with the Brutalist movement.

Whether hung in an entryway, living room, bedroom, or above a console, dresser, or fireplace mantel, this mirror provides both practical function and sculptural impact. Its unique handcrafted character and emphasis on natural materials make it a distinctive focal point while bringing warmth, texture, and artistic presence to the surrounding space.
