MIDCENTURY THREE-TIER RATTAN BAR CART OR ROLLING SERVING TABLE WITH GALLERY RAIL

$3,995

A well-proportioned midcentury rattan bar cart or serving table featuring three circular tiers and original casters. The design is clean and architectural: four upright posts support stacked woven shelves, each framed with a continuous rattan gallery rail. The upper and lower tiers are enclosed with spindle galleries, while the middle shelf remains open for easier access.

The woven tops are tightly executed and evenly toned, showing a warm honey color that works effortlessly in both coastal and classic interiors. The wrapped joints at the intersections add subtle craftsmanship detail and reinforce the structure visually and physically. The proportions are practical—large enough to function as a true bar cart or entertaining piece, yet compact enough to serve as a side table or occasional stand.

This piece would sit comfortably beside a sofa, in a sunroom, or styled with glassware and bottles as a drinks trolley. The casters allow easy movement without compromising stability. A versatile and highly usable example of midcentury rattan furniture.
