$5,995

A pair of English stoneware from the late 19th century, with coat of arms made into table lamps. Created in England during the last quarter of the 19th century, this pair of English stoneware has been converted into table lamps. They are adorned with the English coat of arms with the lion and unicorn in the front and are unfinished in the back. Boasting a nicely distressed patina and mounted on black bases, this pair of English 1880s stoneware made into US wired table lamps will bring a touch of authenticity to any home, perhaps anchoring a credenza, buffet or console table.
