PAIR OF CONTEMPORARY END TABLES MADE OF ENGLISH 19TH CENTURY BRASS FIRE SCREENS

$7,200

A pair of contemporary end tables made of 19th century English firescreen panels mounted on new custom-made steel bases. Each of this pair of end tables features a rectangular top made of English 19th century brass firescreen panels, adorned with an abundance of C-scrolls, surrounding a central crowned monogram. Safely secured under a new glass top, each panel is mounted on a simple yet elegant new custom-made steel base, made of four straight legs with flat feet, connected to one another through double half-moon cross-stretcher. The purity of the lines, combined with the beautifully contrasting colors of the brass and steel, will make this pair of contemporary end tables with 19th century English firescreens a perfect choice to compliment any décor, from modern to traditional.
