PAIR OF CONTEMPORARY WHITE PORCELAIN TABLE LAMPS ON LUCITE BASES

$2,995

This pair of contemporary porcelain table lamps offers a clean, sculptural presence defined by simple forms and a restrained palette. Each lamp features a rounded body rising to a cylindrical neck, creating a silhouette inspired by traditional Asian ceramic vessels while remaining distinctly modern in execution.

Finished in a soft white glaze, the porcelain surfaces reveal subtle texture and gentle variations that add depth without disrupting the minimalist aesthetic. The crisp white bodies are elevated on clear Lucite bases (measuring 8" in diameter) that visually lighten the composition, while brass hardware provides a warm accent that complements the neutral finish.

The versatility of the design allows these lamps to work effortlessly in a variety of interiors, from contemporary and transitional spaces to coastal, Scandinavian, or more traditional settings. Their generous proportions make them ideal for use on bedside tables, consoles, buffets, or as a balanced pair on end tables flanking a sofa.

Elegant without being ornate, these lamps bring light, texture, and a sense of quiet sophistication to a room while pairing easily with a wide range of furnishings and decorative styles.
