PAIR OF ENGLISH 19TH CENTURY FIGURED WALNUT MIRRORS WITH STEPPED MOLDED FRAMES

$5,995

A handsome pair of English 19th century walnut mirrors, each set within a substantial molded frame showcasing beautifully figured grain. The warm walnut displays rich tonal variation and lively movement, particularly visible across the broad top rails and mitered corners. The frames are constructed with deep stepped molding, giving the mirrors quiet architectural presence without excessive ornamentation.

Their proportions are generous yet restrained, making them versatile for use above consoles, chests, or flanking a fireplace. The simplicity of the design allows the quality of the walnut to take precedence, while the depth of the molding provides visual weight appropriate to period English interiors.

The mirror plates exhibit age-appropriate character, contributing to the overall authenticity of the pair. The backs retain traditional plank construction with later wiring for hanging.
