PAIR OF FRENCH LOUIS XVI STYLE 1920S PAINTED SIDE CHAIRS WITH FLUTED LEGS

$3,750

A pair of French Louis XVI style painted side chairs from circa 1920 with rectangular backs, fluted legs, carved rosettes and linen upholstery. This exquisite pair of French Louis XVI style painted side chairs from circa 1920 exudes timeless elegance and refined taste. Each chair features a classic rectangular back, lending a stately and upright posture, while the fluted legs add a touch of delicate ornamentation, transitioning into reeded detailing towards the arrow feet. This combination of fluting and reeding showcases the chairs' impeccable craftsmanship and attention to detail. Carved rosettes at the corners of the chairs inject an additional layer of sophistication, harking back to the grandeur of the Louis XVI era. The subtle, painted finish on the wood enhances the chairs' antique charm and makes them versatile additions to any interior design scheme. The seating is adorned with quality linen upholstery, its neutral hue inviting and versatile, complemented by a double welt that adds a crisp, tailored finish. This choice of fabric not only promises durability and comfort but also provides a modern touch to the chairs' classical design. In your home, these chairs could grace a formal dining room, providing elegant seating for guests and family alike. They could also serve as accent pieces in a living room, bedroom, or a sophisticated entryway, offering a spot to sit or simply acting as sculptural elements that elevate the space. Their versatile design makes them suitable for various decor styles, from traditional to more contemporary settings.
