PAIR OF MIDCENTURY ENGLISH TURNED PINE TABLE LAMPS WITH PLINTH BASES – US WIRED

$3,750

A pair of turned pine table lamps from England, Midcentury, professionally rewired for the USA. Made of solid pine with a warm honey-toned finish and visible knots throughout, each lamp sits on a stepped square plinth that gives the base weight and proportion. The silhouette is generous and sculptural, with a baluster profile and subtle carved banding that creates depth along the central column. The grain and natural imperfections are part of the charm—these are utilitarian forms elevated by the clarity of the wood and the quality of the turning.

Style them on either end of a long console or credenza, where their size will give structure to the surface. They'd also work well on matching nightstands, paired with pleated or paper shades for a soft, English-cottage feel. These Midcentury English lamps have an easy presence that works in a room that's already full of character—or one that needs it. A strong, quiet choice for layered interiors.
