SPANISH MIDCENTURY GILT METAL CROWN PENDANT WITH FROSTED GLASS DIFFUSER

$1,850

This Spanish Midcentury gilt metal pendant light, dating to around 1950, features a striking crown-shaped silhouette made of hand-cut, leaf-like forms that evoke stylized foliage. The botanical motif adds a sculptural, organic presence to any space, offering a warm, golden glow when lit. Suspended from a simple chain and canopy, the fixture centers around a single bulb housed beneath a round frosted glass diffuser, creating an even, gentle light—ideal for entryways, powder rooms, or dining nooks where charm and visual texture matter.

Professionally rewired for use in the United States, this gilt metal light blends decorative drama with everyday function. The upward-reaching leaves add movement and depth to the design, while the shallow bowl-like base keeps the silhouette compact and ceiling-friendly.

Use it as a single statement piece or in pairs above a kitchen island or hallway. Its warm patina and sculptural form make it a versatile choice for interiors that blend antique and contemporary sensibilities, adding just enough sparkle without overwhelming the room.
